PERSONAL ISSUES ASSOCIATED WITH THE SEVENTH CHAKRA

- Ability to accept and integrate the shadow side of all other chakra issues
- Ability to accept that human existence affords rare opportunities for long-lasting perfection and enlightened states
- Ability to hold with compassion the suffering inherent in the human condition
- Ability to recognize the limitations of the ego and surrender ego-based fears and drives to a higher transcendent power
- Ability to move through first chakra issues without losing hope. Ability to attain a seventh chakra vibration which encompasses all first chakra issues
- Mastering the experiences of joy, enjoyment, contentment, acceptance, forgiveness and compassion

ABOUT THE SEVENTH DIMENSION

- The seventh dimension emits amazing harmonics of a level surpassing any of those from the fourth dimension, harmonics which sweep over and through dimensions one through six.
- Contains Major Temples. There are approximately seven temples, each of which holds a master chord that heals aspects of the other six dimensional planes.
- The goal of seventh dimension initiations is to attain a level of consciousness that allows for final exit from all planes of matter. For an earthling, this means that the soul has fully engaged in earth experience and become one with the many aspects of the earth experience.
- The soul at this level learns to vibrate to full force and potency, all of humanity and the human experience.
- When your soul is ready to transition out of life, this dimension emanates the exact tone of your soul which triggers your soul to exit its body.
- The most important vibratory tone is that of Hope.
- This is one of the dimensions inhabited by bodhisattvas.
- Many of the realms of inner earth kingdoms such as the fairy realms have seventh dimensional harmonics.

SHADOW ASPECTS OF THE SEVENTH DIMENSION

- I have never personally encountered the shadow side of this dimension.

TRAVELING IN THE SEVENTH DIMENSION

- I have visited some of the Major Temples where I have encountered sacred libraries containing history of the soul and its evolution.
- During my near death/soul exchange experience, my consciousness traveled in this dimension and while there, I saw, heard and felt the entire evolutionary path of my soul throughout all incarnations.
- Upon death, if your soul is able to vibrate to the seventh dimension, you review your entire human existence and existences in all other third dimensional planes. If able to accept, forgive and integrate these experiences, you are allowed what I call "exit velocity." This is the soul vibration achieved when one has passed initiations that warrant soul exit from all third dimensional existences.
- This realm is full of ascended masters whose job it is to oversee spiritual lineages and whose wisdom, benevolence and discernment are unsurpassed.
- During my travels here, I have been surrounded by the beautiful harmonics I mentioned above. When I sat in these harmonics, I envisioned that I was at the end of my life, sitting on a hillside way above a small village. It was nighttime. As I looked down into the town below and peered through dimly lit windows in houses, I watched the enactment of all of the pain and pleasure, joy and heartbreak that is the earth experience. I embodied and embraced love and hate, deaths and births, marriages and divorces, lovemaking and violence - the entire spectrum of the human experience. I was able without fear to encompass it all and accept it with equanimity. The Infinite Intelligence that created this world - and that holds it together even when it seems to be shattering - flowed through my being.
- Because the seventh dimension can reconcile impossible dualities that the earth holds, I am reminded that even in the worst times, Hope is, has been and always will be an inextricable part of experience on this planet.

ASSOCIATED SENSATIONS WHEN TRAVELING IN THE SEVENTH DIMENSION

- The feeling of sublime surrender and an all-cherishing peace
- The harmonics wash over you and all fears melt away.

APPLICATION OF SEVENTH DIMENSIONAL ENERGIES

- Energies from the seventh dimension refine the overall energy field and harmonize it.
- Wonderful energy supports self forgiveness for all karmic issues and issues stemming from the first through sixth chakras
- Supportive energy to retain Hope in the face of despair
- Energies used to reweave the meridian systems of the body

- Beneficial energies for helping to readjust key points in the body that are responsible for the ratio of matter to spirit in the body, or the vibrational density of the matter of the body
